Composition of Course and Delivery Methods

Undergraduate degree courses at Leeds Arts University are delivered and supported through a range of teaching and learning strategies. Courses are made up of modules, these are elements of study that are taught and assessed separately. Each module carries a clearly identified credit value, the accumulation of which will allow you to progress to the next level of the course. 100 hours of learning are expected for every ten credits of the course. Each level (year) of the course is made up of 120 credits and therefore requires 1200 hours of learning. This equates to 40 hours of study per week throughout the academic year.

For every 100 hours of learning, approximately 25 hours are delivered as taught or supported sessions and remaining hours are allocated for studio/workshop access and independent learning. Individual courses have their own learning cultures based on their specific use of the teaching and learning methods listed here. These methods feature differently depending on the course, level, aims of module, content of the sessions and progress through an academic year.

Other Costs:

Further costs of study are related largely to the costs of materials and depend very much on how individual students choose to respond to University briefs. The costs below are the result of asking our students to state how much they spend during the year and creating an average, as such they are indicative only.

- Equipment & Materials

A list of essential equipment is provided each year, such as metal ruler, scalpel, brushes etc. Most of this you will already have accumulated from previous study. If buying from scratch this will cost in the region of £45 but can be collected much cheaper with some shopping around.

- Level 4 (First Year)
Materials and processes £120 -£160
- Level 5 (Second Year)
Materials and processes £150 - £250
- Level 6 (Third Year)
The individual exploration of design ideas at level 6 means there is a much greater variety of expenditure, based on personal interests, ranging from £150 - £800, with £500 as an average.

- Trips

Over the course of your studies there will be a range of international trips on offer, more information on this will be available once you enrol. Please note that visits and trips are an optional enhancement activity, as we appreciate that budgets may be limited. European residential trips cost approximately £250-£350 and local trips £20-£30.
